

“Try”

From her stoop in Brooklyn, singer-songwriter Madison McFerrin shares her experience singing “The Star-Spangled Banner” for Hilary Clinton’s presidential campaign in 2016 – a moment that pushed her to become her best self – and performs “TRY,” a song she wrote about chasing your dreams despite what others say.

---

This talk was presented at an official TED conference and was featured by our editors on the home page.